

Employment Law Update: Keeping You In Compliance

Monday, March 15, 2010
Holiday Inn Select ~ Woburn, MA

The Boston Tooling & Machining Association is pleased to announce a meeting focused on providing you with the latest information on the employment law issues affecting small businesses. As employers, you are constantly challenged to keep up to date on these regulations. The information you'll get at our next event will help you to stay current. On Monday, March 15, we welcome Ms. Renee Inomata, Chair of the Employment Group at Burns & Levinson, LLP, for a review and discussion of some of the employment regulation and litigation areas that are of critical importance to employers today. Renee's presentation will highlight

- ◆ Wage and hour law compliance
- ◆ Personal Information Security requirements
- ◆ Independent Contractor classification
 - ◆ The interplay of leave laws
- ◆ 2010 employment trends and developments

Renee Inomata is Chair of the Employment Group and Partner in the Intellectual Property Group at Burns & Levinson LLP. She is an advisor to businesses on all aspects of workplace law and counsels clients on privacy and intellectual property issues. Burns & Levinson LLP is a mid-size New England-based law firm, representing and counseling all types and sizes of businesses.

BTMA Board Elections - Also at our March Meeting, BTMA will elect its 2010 Board of Directors. As required by our Bylaws, a formal notice of the election and the nominees, must be sent to all current Regular and Associate members. You will receive that notice separately. We hope that you will join us to show your support and help elect the 8 individuals who've stepped forward to serve the members of BTMA in the coming year and beyond.
